

Marine Environmental Sciences Consortium
DAUPHIN ISLAND SEA LAB
2010 Graduate Fellowship Competition

The Dauphin Island Sea Lab (DISL) announces the availability of three graduate fellowships for students in the marine sciences for the 2010-2011 academic year.

Qualifications/Restrictions:

These fellowships will provide stipends to students whose principal center of academic and research activity will be the Dauphin Island Sea Lab facility, near Mobile, Alabama. One (1) fellowship is restricted for the recruitment of an in-coming graduate student interested in topics at a DISL member school (see list below). Two (2) fellowships are offered for graduates interested in marine topics and currently enrolled/accepted with unconditional status in a graduate program of a DISL member school. Competition for the fellowships will be judged on the basis of the student's undergraduate and graduate record.

Compensation:

These fellowships will be awarded for twelve (12) months beginning in the Fall semester of 2010. Earlier award may be considered for student initiating graduate studies in the summer session. The twelve (12) month awards will be $16,000-17,000 for a master's student or $18,000-19,000 for a Ph.D. student.

Application:

A complete application must include the following documentation:

- (1) an application form,
- (2) all certified transcripts,
- (3) a copy of GRE scores,
- (4) two letters of recommendation, and
- (5) a brief letter of interests and career intent in marine sciences.

Deadline: Review of Applications will begin on March 26, 2010 and will be complete when all positions are filled.

Applications will be reviewed by the Chair of University Programs and the University Programs faculty.
